

Relab Press Release, May 8, 2008.

Relab is a music remix platform made up of a catalog of remixable tracks, a professional quality remix software and an integrated digital self-publishing system for mp3 remixes. www.relabmusic.com provides everything necessary to create a remix and also opens up the opportunity to sell your remix and get paid.

Here's how it works:

- 1st choose a remixable track on relabmusic.com
- Then download the free Relab Music software and create a remix on your PC.
- You can then publish your remix with a single click onto relabmusic.com.
- From there you can easily embed your remix onto Facebook or MySpace pages for anyone to listen to. This is also where you get votes for your remix. The most popular remixes float to the top of the charts on relabmusic.com and become available to be sold as mp3 downloads.

Relab music software

Relab Music Facebook Application:

Relab on Facebook is not only a tool for remixers to promote their music online, but also serves as a digital remix radio station. Music listeners can create playlists of their favorite Relab remixes and post them on their Facebook pages, or even buy an mp3 remix.

Relab is not only for remixing. You can also make original music by choosing from the catalog of professional quality sound packs and use Relab Music software to create your own original music. All the Relab digital self-publishing tools are available for original music as well. You can even sell your originals on Relab.

For record labels and music publishers:

Relab is a platform to sell digital music in two new formats; remixables and user generated mp3 remixes.

For remixers:

Relab is a platform to not only create and promote remixes without worrying about copyright issues, but also a way to make money from it.

For music lovers:

Relab is a platform to find, listen to and purchase a vast array of new music from relabmusic.com and from within the social networks they use everyday.

For upcoming music producers:

Relab is an extremely affordable platform to create, promote and sell original music. In fact it's possible to create and sell original music with Relab for no cost at all, completely free.
